FROM HEADQUARTERS.

An Address to the Democracy of Kentucky, Urging a More Perfect Organization.

"Office of the Democratic State Central Committee, Louisville, Aug. 21.—President Committees: On the 7th inst. the Democratic State Central Committee adopted the following resolution, viz:

Resolved, That the election of precinct committees be by mass convention at 2 o'clock p. m., except in the cities of Newport and Covington, where the same shall be at 8 p. m. The mass conventions shall be held at the present voting places in said precincts. There should be notice of said meetings published in a newspaper having general circulation in or near said precincts at least three days before said conventions, or by posters at public places near voting places.

"The election of precinct committees in the city of Louisville shall be governed by such regulation as the State Central Committee may hereafter prescribe. The various municipal executive committees shall be elected at such time and in such manner, from time to time, as the Central Committee shall prescribe.

"From the foregoing you will observe that the Democrats of each precinct are made responsible for the selection of a faithful committeeman to represent them in their respective county committees.

"Manner of Choosing Precinct Committees: You are requested, therefore, to assemble promptly at 2 o'clock p. m. on the 6th day of September next, at your respective voting precincts and elect a Chairman and Secretary, and when thus organized, elect by fair count, a sound Democrat as precinct committeeman. It will be the duty of such Chairman and Secretary to immediately advise the undersigned, by letter, of said organization and election.

"Who to Elect: It is very important to the interests of the party throughout the State, and to the interests of every county, that you elect reputable, staunch, uncompromising Democrats, true to their party and true to their business and personal obligations. It is important that you should not elect any one who holds political office, because you want disinterested committeemen; but you are expected to choose men who will understand that their duties are to a certain extent judicial, and that it is unworthy and dishonorable to lend the services of the committee to promote the interests of rival candidates in the party.

"You will bear in mind that you are called upon to elect one committeeman for each voting place (not Magisterial district), and it is the voting precinct and for the voting precinct that you are to elect.

"The precinct committees thus chosen are ordered to assemble themselves together at their respective county courts (not by proxy, but in person) on Saturday, the 13th of September, at 2 o'clock p. m., and elect from their number a temporary Chairman and Secretary, and proceed then to elect a permanent Chairman of the county committee and a permanent Secretary of said committee. The temporary Chairman and Secretary, as above intimated, are requested, by the undersigned, to report to the undersigned the result of said organization, and to send at the same time a list of each precinct committeeman throughout his county. Wherever omissions in any case occur, the Central Committee will supply by appointment.

"You will bear in mind that all Democrats, whether going under the names of 'Wheeler', 'Farmers' Alliance', or under any other organization, whereby the general principles of Democracy are sought to be enforced, are nevertheless Democrats and are as much entitled as are Democrats belonging to any other club or organization to be represented in those Committees.

"It is the purpose of the Democratic party to encourage organization in the proper way, and these men who, either as Democratic leagues, Clubs, 'Wheeler' or 'Farmers' Alliance, unite in outpouring for the principles which are Democratic and essential to the interests of the common country are expected to act on a common basis within Democratic lines, in rebuking National legislation which is calculated to disturb the business and harmony of the whole country. To those organizations everywhere in the State, by uniting as Democrats is due the credit of the great victory you have achieved in the recent State election, and your Central Committee come now to ask a further united effort to bring about organization which will be permanent, permanent and harmonious.

"By order of the State Central Committee.

"JOHN B. CASTLEMAN, Chairman."

PRETTY COTTON GOWNS.

Styles That Seem to Have Taken the Country by Storm.

Cotton dresses of percale, with spots or stripes of color on white, or china squares and stripes on white, blue, cream or cream grounds, are made up in the prevailing simple fashions, with a belted waist, full sleeves and a straight skirt that may have a deep Spanish flounce in front and on the sides, or else gathered at the waist line, and very cords all around, just below the belt. The belted bodice is the old-fashioned apron waist, called also the French waist, with the only seams those under the arms and on the shoulders, the fullness gathered at the waist line in front and back, and plain at the top, though the present fancy is for adding fullness at the neck in front and back lines. These waists are without lining, but should be strengthened under the arms by being faced with strong white muslin from the tips of the shoulders down to the waist line. The fronts are hemmed and fastened by small white pearl buttons set very near together. A turned-over collar and cuffs of open corduroy are another triumph. Formerly such waists were permanently gathered to a belt, but for fear of shrinkage in these days of very long waists they are now cut to extend four or five inches below the belt or waist line, and are very slightly gathered at a belt facing of strong muslin, which can be removed and set on longer down if the bodice shrinks when laundered. For very slight figures these waists can be gathered full in the neck and on the shoulders, then drawn into yoke shape by three or four cords in front and back; or else the back can be made plain, and the fronts drawn by ribbons passed through two or three cords extending from the shoulders to the middle of the front, and tied there in small bows.

Skirts of cotton dresses need not have foundation skirts, though those imported usually have them. They should be always finished with a border of material, and the back breadth should lap to fasten on the left side, instead of having a placket opening in the middle of the back. If a belt of ribbon is used, it should be tucked on the skirt belt in the middle of the back, and brought to the front or the left side, and tied by the wearer. Skirts with a Spanish flounce have two breadths of percale the whole length of the back, with the flounce only on the sides and front, formed of three breadths extending halfway between the knees and waist, then joined to a top piece only half as full, which is neatly gathered to the belt. The top of the flounce may have one or two standing ruffles, or else be headed by a puff four inches wide, with a ruffle at each edge an inch wide, when finished, either with a hem or else of the percale doubled. Lanes are very pretty when made in this way, also dotted or sprinkled white muslins, with colored ribbon drawn through doubled ruffles as lining for the deep flounce. An even just fancy, quite the opposite of the gowns just noted, is that of making gingham dresses in tailor fashion, with the double-breasted habit bodice and the plain habit skirt. This style is liked especially for plaid gingham, notably those of the tartan coloring, and these are made up with lining of the same throughout, and are trimmed with two rows of white pearl buttons on the front and the skirt in the front. The belt is a skirt in cut blue and attached on the hem.—Harper's Bazar.

POVERTY IN SICILY.

The Paucity of Life in Sicily is a saddest feature of the island.

The distance from the Sicilian river to Palermo is about 120 miles. We traveled this distance on our excellent donkeys in four days, with the Naples correspondent of the New York Commercial Advertiser, with time to spare for brief excursions to the main highway to subjects of special interest. The face of the country is mountainous, save where now and then frequent level plains intervene. The mountainous districts recall some of the sterile and forbidding heights of Spain. The plains, though exceedingly fertile, seem uninhabited.

July and Sicily are "swamy" enough. Cereals, fruits and flowers are almost tropically luxuriant; but here can the humane traveler rave over the glories of pagan ruins, the massiveness of mediæval monuments, renaissance, cutlery and fortresses, or the dawning palaces of the nobility of to-day, when almost the entire people of the land are the serfs of a few; when the lowly compromise all but the nobility, the governing classes and ecclesiastics; and when doubtless 2,500,000 souls out of Sicily's 3,500,000 inhabitants are malnourished, ignorant and addled as we are?

An infinite compassion fires one's heart for the helplessness of such a people; and when interest in tremendous natural phenomena, classic ruins and old romantic legends, the pitiable and pathetic side of life in such a land begins to possess and hurt you. Any land boasting no progressive farming, population masters of the soil they till, without a fairly contented peasantry possessing secure and well-defined rights in their holdings, is doomed to desertion and decay.

DOMESTIC CONCERNS.

—All salads should be eaten as soon as possible after the dressing is added, else they become unwholesome.

—Lead atomizers are especially pretty for luncheon. Dip large pipe berries in well-beaten white of egg, then in powdered sugar, repeating the process until the icing is thick enough to stick your fancy.

—Cold fennel pudding: One half box of gelatine soaked in four tins of cold water for ten minutes; add a pint of boiling water, juice of two lemons, one cupful of sugar. Strain and set away to cool. When cold stir in the white of three well-beaten eggs. A thin rolled custard or thick cream may be used to pour over the pudding.—Household.

—Strawberry custard is made by putting a quart of ripe fresh sugar strawberries in a deep dish and covering them with some rich rolled custard. Just before sending them to the table spread a mortigue on the top made from the white of three well-beaten eggs, and half a cup of plait pulverized sugar.—Rural New Yorker.

—The rendered lard of the market should never be used in any good house for cooking purposes. The white lard offered for sale has its whiteness mostly from an admixture of a solution of borax, potash or soda, which is harmful to the lard is used for half-grease, but for cooking the "stuff" is unfit, because the borax, potash, or soda exfoliates the lard and gives it, besides whiteness, the terrible stinky taste and flavor.

—Bananas and Jolly: Make a mold of lemon jelly, cut bananas in slices and sides of the mold with them; pour the jelly slowly, so that the slices may not float, place the mold in ice water until hard; reserve a cupful of the jelly, and just before serving break it up lightly with the white of an egg beaten stiff, and scatter it over the top. Serve with powdered sugar and cream. Strawberries can be used in place of the bananas and will be found delicious.—Boston Herald.

—Chiff's Tongue, Tomato Sauce: Take four fresh calf's tongues, soak in warm water for six hours, drain and parboil for ten minutes; peel, pare and scrape the white skin off, and wash well; dilute in a stew-pan an ounce of four with two quarts of water; set to boil and add the tongues, salt, a wine-glass of vinegar, a bunch of parsley and a bunch of thyme. Let it simmer for an hour and a half; drain on a cloth, split in two, dish up, pour a tomato sauce over, and serve.—Good Housekeeping.

—Tender chickens cooked in the following way are as good as if they were broiled: Open them in the back, season and put them in a baking-pan, with a little water in it. Turn another pan over it, and bake for an hour and a half or two hours, according to the size. If they are not broiled when nearly done take off the upper pan. Cut off the neck before putting in the oven, and boil it along with the giblets in half a pint of water. Take the bones out of the neck; cut the gizzard and heart into fine pieces. Mash the liver with a spoon, and beat it dry, with the water in which they were boiled, in the gravy.

To take grease stains from leather apply benzine, and then rub over with whited white of an egg, and to remove them from marble make a paste of fuller's earth and beat it dry, lay it on thickly, leave it for twelve hours, and then wash off with warm water.

When you have a surplus of asparagus, the best known plan to keep it in good condition is to place the thick ends in water or bury half length in sand.

New papering and painting should generally be done in the fall, and the house kept well lighted, or the best white paints will turn yellow, and fancy colors will lose their brightness.

Milk will readily remove ink stains on linen, if used before the ink is dry; otherwise the best thing is oxalic acid, applied as for fruit stains. Another practical method is to spread the stained part over a plate and rub it with some butter and salt till the stains disappear, then wash with soap and water. Soda buttermilk removes mildew and beetle, followed by a hot iron and blotting paper, with a wash in warm soap and water, causes paint to disappear.

According to an English harbor frequent washings of the head will produce baldness. Another important agent in causing baldness is the use of fancy toilet soaps in shampooing the head. A good brush and comb are sufficient to keep the head clean.

When buttons come off don't hunt up old shaves and use the shabby buttons, but invest five cents in a pair of shined black buttons, and have them ready for emergencies. One old button spoils the style of a shoe.

In preparing clothes for the wash, it is well to remember that any article wetted by water or perspiration should be dried before being thrown into the general receptacle for soiled clothing, particularly during summer weather, as there is always the danger that such articles will become mildewed.

The Siamese ape is said to be in great request among Siamese merchants as a cashier in their counting-houses.

The cashier ape meditatively puts into his mouth each coin presented to him, in business payments, and tests it with grave deliberation. ### THE DUELIST BOUGHT OFF.

How the Honor of a Scrupulous Frenchman Was Saved.

The French craze for duelling reached during the time of the restoration its most extravagant development. Mmo. de Bassonville gives a striking example of this frenzy in her memoirs. The royal body-guard at that time was composed for the most part of aristocratic aristocrats, and was by no means a favorite corps. The popular wit lost no opportunity of ridiculing the objects of its antipathy. One evening at a ball in the opera-house the Viscount Strandier, an officer of the guard, was talking with a friend; when suddenly an unknown man came up and boxed the Viscount's ears. The result was naturally a tremendous sensation.

The stranger saved pardon at once and said he had made a mistake in the person, but the apology was not considered sufficient to prevent a duel. The aggressor was an American, and on the field of combat he received a sword thrust through the arm. The Viscount was still disarmed and a fortnight later he again challenged his adversary, who, in the meantime, had recovered from his injury, and this time gave him a dangerous wound in the breast. The Yankee recovered, and on time and promptly took ship for his home in Louisiana.

In the meantime the local papers of the French capital teemed with jests and sarcasms. It was said that the people who were killed in duels by the officers of the body-guard always turned up afterward in excellent health, etc., etc. This determined Strandier to follow his opponent to Louisiana. In New Orleans he presented himself before his foe and declared, with great frankness, that he must kill him. The Southerner asked if the athenian's hatred was not yet satisfied.

"I don't hate you at all, my dear sir," replied the Frenchman, politely, "but I owe it to my military position to take your life."

"Then resign!" promptly suggested the Louisianaian.

"But I have no property," said the American, overjoyed. "Then I have a way to help us both. I have a pretty daughter; marry her and I'll give you 1,000,000 francs as dowry."

The Viscount found the lady charming, and in love with her and married a fortune, which permitted him to give up his military career and appear thenceforth as his father-in-law.—Exchange.

Fame.

Fame and good reputation consists in doing the right thing in the right way at the right time. Generals are famous who lead the way to victory. Orators are famous who touch the heart of the people. Smith's Tonic Syrup is famous because it has over accomplished correct results. Used in the right way at the right time it invariably does the right thing. It never makes a failure. It never brings disappointment. It was invented by the eminent Dr. J. C. Ball, of Louisville, Ky., as a substitute for quinine. It does its work even better than was expected. It has all the good qualities of quinine and none of its evil tendencies. It cures chills and fever, colds, influenza, in grippe, etc., even when quinine fails. It is pleasant to take, and children like it. It builds up a broken-down constitution and fortifies it against the insidious attacks of malarial influences.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

HON. W. T. ELLIS, of this county, is a Democratic candidate for reelection to Congress, subject to the action of the district primary election Sept. 25.

For Congress
of Daviess County.

ELLIS' WALK-OVER.

From the day that Mr. McKenzies decided not to run for Congress, there has never been any doubt that Capt. Ellis would succeed himself. With McKenzies on the track there would have been a red hot fight, but the opposition Capt. Ellis has had all summer was not of a character to endanger his success in the least. At first amusing, it finally became annoying by reason of the persistence displayed in attacking his record in Congress upon the most flimsy pretexts, and it finally became necessary for Capt. Ellis to come home for a few days and correct some of the false impressions created by the false speeches in Henderson and Webster counties. At one or two of these Mr. Givens met him and spoke his piece. This gave Capt. Ellis an opportunity to dispose of his adversary and he devoted about ten minutes of his speech to Mr. Givens, and as predicted by the Kentuckian some time ago, the effect was that about two or three dozen were all Mr. Givens could crush. His pretensions were utterly crushed, and his lofty ambition "chastened from childhood" was given a hopeless setback. He quickly returned home and on Friday withdrew from the race, leaving Capt. Ellis a clear track. In doing this Mr. Givens has acted wisely and commendably. He is a bright, well balanced young man, a splendid journalist and a clever, companionable gentleman, but he is hardly ripe enough to be pulled for a congressman. With possibly one exception, the Second district has not been in the habit of sending light-weights intellectually to Congress. We have sent men who had brains and who could talk, and we have such a man now representing the district. This being the case, there was no need of a change, especially when Capt. Ellis was entitled to an endorsement. He has stood faithfully at his post for nine months and upon no important measure has failed to be on hand and vote. At least one Democrat lost his seat by the absence of Democratic members, but Capt. Ellis has never been absent when his vote was needed. He has made speeches up on both the tariff and silver questions that attracted the attention of the country and has shown that he not only has brains but can talk ably, fluently and eloquently.

It would have been graceful and proper for such a representative to have been given an endorsement without any opposition whatever. But Mr. Givens saw fit to oppose him and an expensive and needless primary election was called. This action should not be imputed to the District Committee should be called together at once and Capt. Ellis declared the party nominee. The people are tired of elections and should be given a rest until November. With but one candidate, the primary is no longer necessary and since Capt. Ellis is to succeed himself without a contest the Kentuckian to-day anticipates his formal nomination and places his name at the head of its columns.

Sheriff W. W. Myers, of Casey county, is the first Sheriff to get his quietus for 1890. He made a full settlement with the State last Thursday.

The Democrats have nominated Geo. W. Peck, Mayor of Milwaukee and editor of Peck's Sun, for Governor of Wisconsin and are going to perpetrate a joke on the Republicans by electing him.

Peck's Bad Boy should now resume his literary work long enough to let the country know about the nomination of his Pa for Governor of Wisconsin.

"The Farmers and Laborers' Union," is too cumbersome a name to ever become popular. They had better adopt either "Wheel" or "Alliance," or the newspapers will settle upon one or the other for them.

Everywhere the name of Grover Cleveland is greeted with applause long and deafening. In Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin and California the greatest enthusiasm followed every mention of his name in the State Conventions.

There is nothing to be accomplished by discussing the question of sobriety with the Covington Commonwealth. Furthermore, historical statements should not be characterized as unwarranted assertions. Let's drop the subject.

Green Smith, the unrepentant Democrat who became famous as Speaker of the Indiana Legislature that defeated Ben Harrison for Senator, has been nominated for Attorney General. He is a big-bodied, big-brained fellow, with a buck-tooth like the pier of a bridge and ought to be in Congress.

THE GRAND JURY.

Judge Grace's Instructions On Embezzlement, Etc.

Sheriffs May Obtain Money Under False Pretenses.

Following are the names of the grand jurors empaneled yesterday at 10 o'clock upon the assembling of Circuit Court:

Geo. W. Shaw, foreman; Isaac Garrett, Ben McGee, J. B. Dado, Ben C. Boyd, T. J. Powers, Jno. S. Long, Sam Dulin, col. Morris Adkins, col. M. H. Carroll, I. H. Cayce, R. E. Fields, F. M. Stevens, Jas. C. Moore, T. A. Williams and D. E. Fowler.

Judge Grace's instructions occupied about thirty minutes. After discussing the various offenses to which the Grand Jury's attention is to be directed, in about the usual instructions, he dwelt at some length upon the various offenses against property rights—robbery, larceny, embezzlement and obtaining money under false pretenses. The last two were discussed with special reference to the crookedness in the sheriff's office from 1881 to 1883, and in regard to embezzlement the Court said in substance:

"The law of embezzlement does not apply to collecting agents, as sheriffs or their deputies. Such officers are under bond and cannot steal from themselves. The property they are due the State does not become the State's property until paid over to the State. Then it may be embezzled in the line of this statute and it follows that treasurers of counties or municipalities are amenable to its penalties. It has not, however, been the policy of the state to make the statute apply to the punishment of defaulting sheriffs as criminals, where their duties are to collect and pay over revenues. The obtaining of money under false pretenses, statement or token is a different matter and such officers may be held responsible as well as any other individuals. If a collector makes a false statement and thereby obtains money with felonious intent he may be indicted and prosecuted under the criminal law. Mistakes are liable to be made and an officer should not be indicted for more mistakes, but where the intent to misappropriate is clearly manifested, then indictments should be found. The court has no personal knowledge of such crimes, but there has been much talk on this subject. It is not my province to deal in facts, that is for you to do. I merely state the principles of law that must govern you. Whoever the facts show that two or more persons have conspired together to defraud, you should indict both, though the actual work of defrauding was done by but one of them. The law holds all parties to a conspiracy alike guilty."

PRESTO, CHANGE!

The Old Hands Go Out and the New County Officers Step In.

Yesterday a new set of county officers were sworn in and the "Court House Clique" is now composed of entirely new material.

Judge Thos. J. Morrow, Dem., succeeds Judge W. P. Winfree, Dem., who has held the office of county judge for two terms of four years each. He leaves the office with the respect and good opinion of all and returns to the practice of the law and the prosecution of his insurance business as a member of the firm of Long, Winfree & Kelly.

Judge Morrow is likewise a lawyer, but recently has engaged in farming near the city. He formerly represented Caldwell county in the Legislature. He has lived in this county for about ten years.

Mr. John W. Payne, Dem., retires from the office of County Attorney in favor of Mr. Larkin T. Brasher, also a Democrat. Mr. Brasher has represented this county in the Legislature for one term and made the race for the Senate against John Folsad, Sr. He defeated John Folsad, Jr. in the last race, so his honors are even with the Folsad family.

Maj. John W. Brentnall, the old war-horse of Republicanism in the county, surrenders his office for the time being to Mr. Jno. P. Prowse, of the same political faith, who is the only Republican who was saved from the wreck and who holds his office by the slender majority of 5 votes and a contest for those. Mr. Prowse retains Harvey Breathitt as deputy and his son, Frank Prowse, succeeds Jno. T. Edmunds as copyist.

Mr. Dennis R. Perry, Dem., took the oath of office as Assessor, succeeding M. A. Littlefield, Rep., who will qualify next June as a Justice of the Peace in the Union School House district. Mr. Perry is thoroughly qualified and will, no doubt, make a model official.

Prof. Sam'l L. Froggo (pronounced Frogg), of Lafayette, a teacher of long and successful experience, supplants Prof. F. H. Renshaw, Rep., in the office of Superintendent of County Schools.

County Sheriff W. M. West, Dem., will succeed himself in January, but he has added a new deputy in the person of Mr. C. A. Brasher, late of Crofton.

Mr. Geo. W. Long, Dem., succeeds himself as jailer for four years more. Mr. H. F. Rives was elected County Surveyor at the August election as a Democrat. This office is of but little value in this county and Mr. Rives will remain at his home in the country.

Dr. J. L. Dulin, coroner by appointment, qualified for a full term. Col. M. D. Brown also qualified as City Judge for four years and will dispense justice to evil doers and law-breakers in the City Court. He will wear the ermine gracefully and is confidently believed to revolutionize things for the better in his department of the city government. He too succeeds a Republican, Judge J. C. Brasher.

GIVENS GIVES IN.

Mr. Ellis' Only Opponent Pulls Out the Track.

The Wheelers Discouraged Him.

The Onondaga Messenger of Saturday contained the following announcement of the withdrawal of Mr. C. C. Givens from the race for Congress:

"Mr. C. C. Givens is no longer a candidate for Congress."

"Mr. Givens came home yesterday from Seabrook suffering with a violent cold and sore throat, and went from the train to his house. The fact of his leaving the canvass had attracted attention, and inquiries were made as to the reason. A reporter for the Messenger called on him at his residence at Fifth and Allen streets last night and secured an interview with him. He at first said he had not withdrawn or announced his intention of doing so, and stated that the only reason for his coming home was his sore throat, from which he was evidently suffering severely. After a brief conversation on the subject, however, he frankly said that he had no show in the world of winning the race, on account of the complications introduced into it by the Wheeler organization. They had decided to stay out of the primary, and as that fact would leave the decision of the primary contest in the hands of the non-Wheeler vote, it was as clear as daylight that he could not secure the nomination. He had come to this conclusion before he started out on the tour with Capt. Ellis, and his observations at Spotsville, Roberts and Seabrook only strengthened his determination to withdraw."

How's This!

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure.

West & Thaux, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, Ohio; Waldring, Kinman & Martin, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, Ohio.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Price, 75c. per bottle. Sold by all Druggists.

As a general liniment for sprains and bruises or for rheumatism, lame back, deep seated or muscular pains, Chamberlain's Pain Balm is unrivaled. For sale by Buckner Leavelle.

Ex-State Senator W. F. Neat, of Adair county, has renounced the Republican party on account of the infamies contained in the McKinley Bill and the extravagant pension legislation of the present Congress. Mr. Neat had voted the Republican ticket for 25 years, but voted for Longmire this year, and will hereafter be a Democrat.

CHAMBERLAIN'S Eye and Skin Ointment.

A certain cure for Chronic Sore Eyes, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Old Chronic Sores, Fever Sores, Eczema, Itch, Prairie Scratheles, Sore Nipples and Piles. It is cooling and soothing. Hundreds of cases have been cured by it after all other treatments had failed. 25 and 50 cent boxes for sale by Buckner Leavelle.

Mr. John Carpenter, of Goodland, Ind., says: "I tried Chamberlain's Colic, cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, for diarrhea and cramps and pains in the stomach and bowels with the best results. In the worst cases I never had to give more than the third dose to effect a cure. In most cases one dose will do. Besides it's other good qualities it is pleasant to take." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Buckner Leavelle.

The Alliance Convention at Paducah adjourned without nominating a candidate for Congress in Capt. Stone's district. They finally decided, after much wrangling, to submit the usual questions to all candidates now announced and failing to be satisfied, hold a "Peoples' Convention" in October and put out an Independent Candidate.

During the epidemic of flux in this county last summer, I had hard work to keep a supply of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy on hand. People often came ten or twelve miles in the night to get a bottle of the Remedy. I have been selling put out medicine for the last ten years and find that it gives better satisfaction in cases of diarrhea and flux, than any other medicine I have ever handled.

J. H. BENHAM, Druggist, Goleconda, Pope Co., Ill. Over five hundred bottles of this Remedy were sold in that county during the epidemic. It was a perfect success and was the only remedy that did cure the worst cases. Dozens of persons there will testify that it saved their lives. In four other epidemics of bowel complaint this Remedy has been equally successful. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Buckner Leavelle.

Mr. E. F. Coyner has purchased the Lem Morris place, containing three acres, on the Fairview pike just outside the city limits.

THEATRICAL.

The Opera House will be opened for the season on to-morrow night with Hettie Bernad Chase in her excellent little play, Uncle's Darling. This is a well constructed piece especially written for Miss Chase and her company, and will be sure to please her audience. Miss Chase is a southerner of genuine ability and has been indefatigable in her endeavors to make for herself a reputation of being a pleasing actress. Her company is good and the "Golden Gate" martello is said to be excellent. Tickets now on sale. Usual prices.

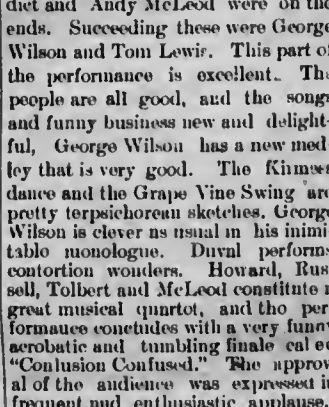

Geo. Wilson's Minstrels.

No minstrel company on the road has made a better start this season than Geo. Wilson's. He is playing to full houses at every stop. Speaking of his Louisville engagement the Commercial says:

"Macanley's theatre never began a season more auspiciously than last evening. The crowd was not only large, but it was enthusiastic also. It was generous in its applause. The new curtain received an ovation when the lights were turned on, and when it was drawn up, disclosing the handsome setting for the 'first part' the o was a big cheer. Daniel Quinlan was introduced, resplendent in blue and gold, as the representative of the Court of St. James. He is a middle man whom not even the Farmers' Alliance would wish to dispose of. The scheme of the first part is 'a pageant of nations.' Following Mr. Quinlan came the entire company all dressed in gorgeous costumes representative of various nationalities. Low Benedict and Andy McLeod were on the tour with Capt. Ellis, and his observations at Spotsville, Roberts and Seabrook only strengthened his determination to withdraw."

Succeeding these were George Wilson and Tom Lewis. This part of the performance is excellent. The people are all good, and the songs and funny business new and delightful. George Wilson has a new melody that is very good. The Kimmes dance and the Grape Vine Swing are pretty spirited dances. George Wilson is clever as usual in his imitations monologues. Dural performs contortion wonders. Howard, Russell, Tolbert and McLeod constitute a great musical quartet, and the performances conclude with a very funny and amusing and tumbling finale called "Confusion Confused." The approval of the audience was expressed in frequent and enthusiastic applause."

Yours anyone to please

John Boyd, col., was arrested Saturday, charged with attempting house-breaking. He was detected in the act of breaking into Mr. J. D. Higgins' house Friday night.

The grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias will assemble at Bowling Green Sept. 16, 17 and 18 and great preparations are being made for the entertainment of the members.

A large number of fire insurance men have been in the city adjusting the Penbrooke losses and discussing the arranging of a new schedule of rates for Hopkinsville and Christian county.

Dr. G. Goldstein, of Louisville, the celebrated oculist, has arrived in the city and can be found at the Phoenix this week. The Doctor is well known here, having visited us repeatedly for several years, professionally.

Dr. A. L. Butt has opened an office in this city, and will give exclusive attention to the treatment of the disorders of the Eye, Ear, Throat and Nose, and the fitting of glasses. Office with Dr. Blakey, where he may be found on Fridays and Saturdays, 9-2 pm.

Mr. E. F. Morris, who was arrested last week for having a pistol concealed upon his person, went before the court and established the fact that he had been sworn in as a special railroad policeman some months ago, for a period of three years, and the charge against him was promptly dismissed.

Messrs. Jno. Boyd and W. B. Davis have opened a grocery and saloon on Sixth street, in the Postell block, and will carry a complete line of family groceries, etc. Mr. Davis has had much experience in the mercantile business and together with Mr. Boyd's influence will doubtless control a good share of the public patronage.

Mr. Frank L. Waller received last week from W. A. Martin, of Arizona, formerly of this county, the skin of a huge cinnamon bear that weighed 400 pounds. Mr. Martin runs a saw mill in that Territory and killed the bear near his place of business. The skin was sent by express and is worth about $20. Mr. Waller will have it tanned.

T. E. Lawson has obtained a pension of $9 per month for W. E. Wilkins, of this city, to date from Dec. 19, 1889. Mr. Wilkins was wounded in the battle of Chancellorsville, from the effects of which he has never entirely recovered. The same agent also secured for Chas. Barnett, col., of Pembroke, a bounty claim for $232.14, in favor of his son who died in the service.

Four negro boys were arrested at Trenton last Friday and taken back to Guthrie where they will answer to the charge of breaking into a box car side-tracked at that place. When their crime was discovered they ran and were chased by Officer Jackson & seback, but succeeded in escaping. A telegram reached Trenton in time to catch them, however, as they were passing through enroute to this city.

Just before the election Gus Breathitt, Otho Anderson, Tom Allen and Ed Glass were detailed as a "Big Four" to help the other "Big Four" on the county ticket. They came over from Owensboro and did good work, but unfortunately failed to carry the county. Now comes the sequel. All of these officers have been left out in the September assignments and it is highly probable that they will be given a long resting spell to recover from the fatigue of campaign work. This is indeed very considerable on the part of Collector Feland.

A GOOD THING!

To our friends and customers: We are pleased to inform you that we now have a sure cure for chills, which is perfectly sweet. It has no taste at all. It will cure any case of Chills. Quit taking the bitter Chills Tonic, and let us sell you a bottle of Pomroy's Sweet Chills Cure! Price 50 cents. One bottle holds enough to cure two or three cases of Chills. Come and let us show it to you.

Your Friend,
Bessie L. Laywell,
Hopkinsville, Ky.

A curious case was lately decided by a local court. A well-to-do lady refused to pay a painter for a picture of herself and three daughters, on the plea that the likeness was not good. The picture of the ladies was brought into court by the plaintiff, and the judges decided that in order to find whether the likeness was good or bad the defendants should appear in the picture. This was arranged, and the result was that, overcome by the beauty and splendor of the four fair dames, the case was decided in their favor.

THE H. & C. RAILROAD.

This Road the Only Hope of Hopkinsville.

Paper Roads no Longer to be Looked on with Patience.

We Can Build and Own Our Own Road.

Six long months have elapsed since the Ohio Valley Railroad gave it out that a third proposition would be made to the people of Hopkinsville "in a few days."

Days have lengthened into weeks and weeks into months, until the heart has been made sick at the delay and the long season of unbroken inactivity. Nothing has been done and the time has come for Hopkinsville to conclude that nothing is going to be done by the O. V. road. Another year is fast slipping away, making the fourth year we have lived upon the illusive hopes held out to us by this company.

The Kentuckians are candid enough to say now that it has lost faith in the cupidness of O. V. and is tired of having the feelings of Hopkinsville trifled with by this heartless and feeble flirt. It now proposes to pay no further attention to the O. V., nor to any other road unable to carry out its promises, but to hereafter advocate the building of a competitive line by the exertions of our own people.

A mother bird left her young in a field of ripened grain and directed them to pay particular attention to everything they heard.

The farmer came, looked at the grain and told his son to ask in all of the neighbors to help cut it on the morrow. The frightened birds reported what they had heard, but the mother again left, after giving similar instructions, on the next day. The farmer and his son came forth, but the neighbors came not to assist. Then the owner said to his son, "Go and tell all of our kindred to come to-morrow and help us cut our crop. Surely they will aid us." "They will not come," the old bird said, "but listen closely to what you hear to-day," and again she left on the following morn. She returned this time at noon and found the young birds in a panic. "The farmer came with his son but none of their relations were here," they said, "and the old man told his son to sharpen up the blades and get everything in readiness and they would cut the field themselves on the following day." "Then indeed must we get a move on us," said the old bird, "for when a man resolves to do a thing himself, it is pretty apt to be done."

This fable illustrates the point. We must no longer look to our neighbors nor even to our relatives to build a railroad for us. If we are to have the long desired outlet we must build it ourselves. The climber is ready, the people are willing, the route to Princeton and Eddyville is an easy one and the road can be built at comparatively little cost. The line has been surveyed, the estimates have been made for building this road and something would have been done long before this but for the repeated requests of the dilatory O. V. for further time to prepare their oft-promised proposition. The people must now look to the Hopkinsville & Cadiz road for relief and the sooner the directory can get in a shape to submit a proposition to the city to take about $125,000 worth of stock the better it will be for all. Don't wait, gentlemen, but sharpen up your blades and let's begin at once to cut the grain ourselves. Hopkinsville is abundantly able to build the greater part of this line of forty miles. The city with $1,250,000 of property is practically out of debt and her moneyed men are fully aroused to the importance of the work. Everything is ready and the times are propitious. The iron is hot and now is the time to strike.

Death of Miss Lucy Henry.

Miss Lucy Henry, oldest daughter of Mrs. Kate Henry, of near this city, died very suddenly on the night of August 28th. Her death was one of peculiar sadness and distressing circumstances. Only forty-eight hours before she took part in the wedding festivities of a young lady relative and as she appeared at the church and at the gathering that followed she was the very picture of health and womanly beauty. Possessing a magnificent physique, tall, graceful and well proportioned; with a pleasant and a happy smile for all and a disposition ever sweet and amiable, she was a universal favorite with all who knew her. Popular in society, idolized in the home circle and useful in her church duties, her loss will be severely felt. It seems hard indeed for her loved ones to reconcile themselves to her loss. Cut down on the threshold of womanhood, young in years, cultivated in mind and accomplished in all the graces that make her sex attractive, her life seemed destined to be one unbroken period of happy promise.

Her funeral services were held at the Ninth Street Presbyterian church on Saturday morning and Dr. Nourse's discourse was one peculiarly touching and appropriate. Many friends followed the remains to the grave, and a lovely and charming young lady lives only in the memory of her friends.

CREAM OF NEWS.

A Sunda Cutting.

Robert McCulloch became involved in a difficulty with William Gibson, a negro boy, Sunday afternoon, which resulted in the cutting of Gibson in two places, once in the left arm and once in the side, making serious wounds.

From Work House to Lock-up.

Henry Cross, col., who had just completed a term in the work house, was taken to Trenton Friday by Marshal Stockwell, to answer a charge of petit larceny. Cross had just been discharged from the penitentiary, where he had been sent for one year for burglary, in breaking open the store house of Mr. J. W. Arrington, merchant at Trenton, two years ago, when he lauded here and immediately got into trouble.

Fatal Fracas at a Picnic.

A free fight occurred at a picnic at Bivensville, in Todd county, Saturday, of which one man was killed and two badly wounded. Ed and Tom Langston were on one side and James, Jesse and Frank Higgins on the other and the row came up over a mule trade between two of them. In the fusillade that followed the quarrel, Jim Higgins was killed, and Tom and Jesse Higgins both dangerously shot, one in the side and the other in the breast. The Langstons escaped and are still at large.

Was It Murder?

A killing occurred on Mr. Geo. W. Shaw's farm last Thursday, which was represented as accidental, but which may have been murder. Jim Bell, a hand of Bob Thompson, who is a cropper on Mr. Shaw's farm, and Jim Jesup, one of Walter Shaw's hands, were in a cabin together and a pistol was discharged. Jesup came out and claimed that he had been fooling with the weapon and had shot Bell. The latter was unable to make any statement and died in fifteen minutes. There were no witnesses to the affair. Jesup's story has been generally believed and he has not been arrested. Both were young unmarried colored men.

Ed Chappell Kills Himself.

(By Telephone.)

Edward N. Chappell, youngest son of Jno. W. Chappell, the Cadiz merchant, committed suicide last Saturday. Young Chappell was a salesman in his father's store and when he went home to dinner at noon, fixed up a mixture of laudanum and strychnine, which he retired to his room and swallowed, after locking the door. His father was absent from home, in Clarksville. Some time after dinner his sister heard groans in his room and finding the door locked called in some neighbors and the door was broken open. Chappell was found lying on the bed, suffering greatly, but conscious. He told the family what he had done and added that he was so used to try to save him, as he wanted to die and had taken enough to kill him. He stated that he had left a letter that would explain all, but the family assigns as a reason his bad health and general low spirits. It is not known what was in the letter. Deceased was 25 years of age. He was buried yesterday in the Cadiz Cemetery.
